A Full-stack web developer, passionate about the world of programming. My primary focus lies in web development (MERN Stack), where I have cultivated a high level of expertise, particularly within the React Eco-System. However, I am dedicated to continually enhance my proficiency in data structures and algorithms to ensure a well-rounded skill set. I firmly believe in Project-based learning and have showcased my best works in my personal portfolio. My work reflects my creative spirit, which is evident in the projects I undertake. Adopting emerging technologies and seamlessly integrating them into my work is what I do best. My ultimate goal is to become a self-sufficient developer, and the journey has been gratifying so far. I am eager to connect with like-minded individuals who share my creative passion and contribute towards a shared vision.
